Operational framework

Strategic partnership

As experts in the logistics sector, we seek to meet the needs of our clients by designing tailor made solutions that are peculiar to each business. As part of the SpeedEx tactical logistics operations, we tend to form an alliance with our clients for collaboration.

Bringing the experts together

SpeedEx strategic partnership gives room for professional bonding so that all the players involved can work together to meet the objectives of any operation at any time.

Long term goals

At SpeedEx, our long term goals concentrate on maintaining a long lasting cordial but professional relationship with our clients, as they are at the core of our operations. Also, your satisfaction is paramount to us and that's why our approach focuses on three elements to achieve these goals.

1-monotoring

At SpeedEx, we anticipate your needs to provide you with timely solutions. That's why we ensure that as part of our long term goals; capacity planning, optimization and monitoring are not a one-time service but a continuous process. We actively and passionately ensure that our relationship with you remains crucial to improve your Business continuity.

2-Capacity Planning and Management

This element accounts for the growing volatility and short terms supplies of services during seasonally precarious periods, such as holidays.

Also, in order to bridge the gap between the demand and supply fluxes for non- seasonal periods, enhancing the precision of forecast and improving the flow capacity of our client is the key.

Capacity Planning and Management takes care of everything from conceptualization to execution, which will include but not limited to; requirement planning, implementation, monitoring, management, delivery etc.

Our shippers and carriers work directly with one another, so together; they can identify constraints that hinder capacity and flexibility, such as excessive wait time for loading or over rigid appointment windows. Because our shippers and carriers are well connected, it becomes evidently easier for them to share requirements and reallocate committed capacities for new lanes and volumes to accommodate last-minute client change.

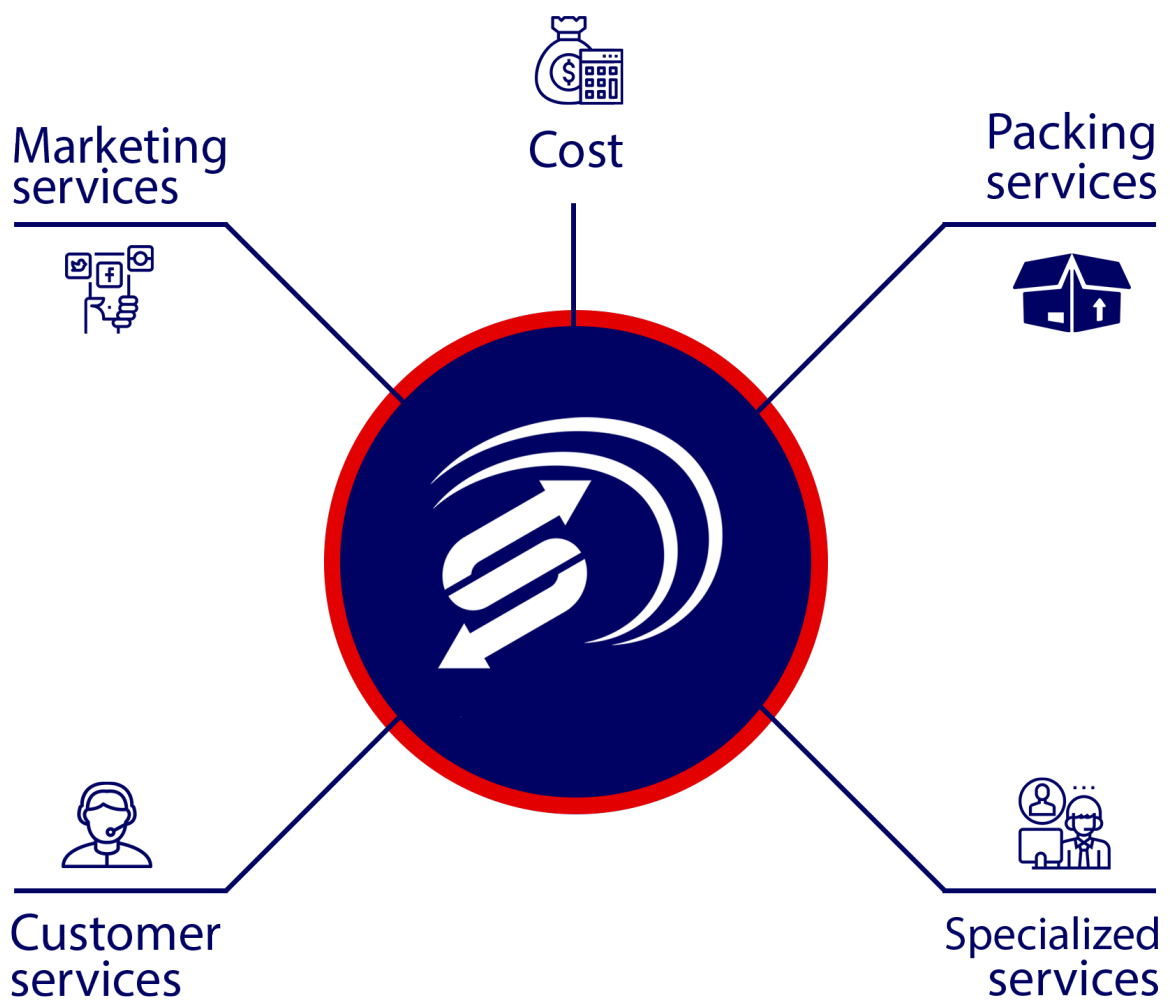

3- Optimization process

Once planning and management is ongoing, the next step is optimization. Consignments assigned to carriers are adjusted regularly to make room for the fluctuations and improve capacity utilization. This element ensures that you don't have to worry about last minute changes in your requirements, since each shippers' and carriers' situation is distinctive of the other and so we are able to account for the variability.

At the end this process keeps you rest assured, knowing that SpeedEx is not just reliable but dependable when called upon at any time.

Competitive advantages

The SpeedEx advantage places us at a higher pedestal than others; We stay ahead of our clients at all times so they can feel confident in our logistics operational framework. Some of the advantages we offer our clients are:

Cost

Reducing costs is a long-term goal for SpeedEx.

We reduce our clients cost by offering customized solutions that suite their specific needs by reducing the cost to transport and warehouse materials increases the profit our clients.

For example, energy costs are one area of logistics that adds to the cost of each shipment.

Our objective at SpeedEx is to consolidate your shipments to help reduce the energy costs.

Maximizing transportation routes also results in a lower energy cost for the company.

Customer services

The goal of providing customers with outstanding customer service involves the ability to handle a business's transportation and logistics needs in an efficient manner.

We have diligent and professional employees that respond to your needs swiftly.

Regardless of the geographical location of your business or the distribution centers
